The New York Churchman treats the drowning of Herbert Ingram, proprietor of the London Illustrated News, in the Lady Elgin disaster, as a special Providence, as a punishment for his having purchased Swinhead Abbey for a residence, which it considers a sacrilege that must carry a curse with it.

It is reported on good authority that the Governor-General of Cuba, owing to the large increase of the American squadron in the Gulf, has been induced to delay any action against Mexico, and to send home to Madrid for instructions. No doubt the formidable naval array in those waters will prevent any precipitate action by Spain.

The Austrian military authorities at Mantua continued to seize proclamations exciting the soldiers to desert, which are largely circulated, and even thrown about the streets. One of them was as follows: "Hungarian soldiers! Italy is rising to be free. The life of Italy is the life of Hungary. If you combat for us, we will combat for you. You must be delivered on the day Venice shall become free. But first of all, it is to Naples and to Rome that we must go with Garibaldi. Long live Hungary! Long live Italy!" Papers bearing the printed inscription, "Turr, sent by Garibaldi, has come to an understanding with Kossuth—the day approaches," had also been circulated in the same city.

The municipality of Cologne was preparing a grand rifle match, to come off towards the end of August or the beginning of September; and not only are the riflemen of all Germany, but Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and England to be invited to take part in it.

An official document states that the consumption of coal in France is 11,000,000 tons yearly—three-fifths of it in manufactures. A large portion of the whole is brought from abroad—1,100,000 tons from England, 2,700,000 from Germany, and 700,000 from Prussia.

The bureau of the Emperor Napoleon I. was sold at the Hotel des Ventes recently, for 5,000f.

A crown of gold, worth 5,000 piastres, and represented as of great artistic merit, had been offered to the Spanish Duke de Tetuan (O'Donnell) by the province of Alicante, as an acknowledgement of his political and military services.

The National Union, Madrid, accused the Carlists of seditiously intriguing to bring about the annexation of Catalonia to France.

The Dowager Countess of Craven recently died at her residence in Berkshire. Half a century ago she was known as Miss Louisa Brunton, and was one of the most popular favorites on the London stage. Her father was an actor of Norwich, but when in 1806 she exchanged the tinsel of the stage for a coronet and the name and rank of a Countess, such was her fair fame, that no one thought it a condescension on the part of her suitor to marry her.

ECCENTRICITIES OF LANGUAGE.—There are those who think it more elegant, because more polite, to talk the language of the society in which we live, and allow words to keep the sound custom has assigned them. However this may be, some people, especially ladies, have an inviolable habit of repeating immediately, by accident, of course, every word they suppose to be mispronounced by another. We might not have observed upon this extraordinary accuracy had it not been to contrast it with an inaccuracy of a very remarkable kind—for though so particular about the sound of words, these ladies evince a marvellous disregard of their meaning. At the breakfast-table we have coffee exuberantly hot, poured out of a lovely pot, and accompanied by bread and butter of infinite excellence. In our walks—when the vile weather does not prevent walking—we have the sweetest ships that ever sailed the waters, the most exquisite cows that ever ate grass; and returning agonized with cold, we not seldom find a heavenly fire, by which we sit down enraptured, comfortably bawling the cruel shortness of the days, and the eternal length of the nights; particularly when we have an immeasurable quantity of nuts to crack, of which the ladies declare themselves to be devotedly fond. The indulgence in such expletives is a sure sign of an imperfect education.

PRIDE MORTIFIED.—At a ball given in Pyrmont, a celebrated watering place in Germany, the tutor of a young count, a Gottengen student, requested a young lady to dance with him. Just as the dance was about to commence, the lady inquired of him: "with whom have I the honor of dancing?" "I am the tutor of Count Von Z." replied her partner. "And a commoner, I presume," she rejoined; to which he answered in the affirmative. "Oh, then," continued the lady, as she withdrew her hand from that of the tutor, "I beg you will excuse me, for mamma has forbidden me to dance with a commoner." This rebuff completely threw the modest preceptor out of countenance, for on the continent to be so deserted on the very eve of a dance, is to loose caste for the rest of the night if not longer. It is supposed to indicate the existence of some moral taint discovered by the person who quits the side of another, and which is exaggerated into something heinous by the company, particularly if they are utterly ignorant of what it is. The young man quitted the room and sought the open air to breathe more freely and collect himself. His pupil followed him, and learned the cause of his distress. "You shall soon have ample satisfaction, for this mortification," said the generous count, and hastened back to the ballroom, followed by his tutor. The moment was propitious. Preparations were going forward for another waltz; the young count requested the rector of his tutor to be his partner in the dance, and she eagerly accepted the proposal, no doubt greatly rejoicing at the immense stride which she had taken from ranking with the humble tutor, to pairing off with the wealthy noble. Just before the dance began, he addressed to her the question she herself had put: "With whom have I the honor of dancing?" "With the lady Von B." she replied. "Oh, I beg your pardon," said the count, "but papa has forbidden me to dance with any but countesses;" and instantly quitted her side. He had the satisfaction of hearing that his conduct was applauded by every sensible person in the room. Few will deny that it was well-merited punishment.

Wednesday Morning, Oct. 31, 1860.

Victoria Bridge.

Italy had her Guelphs and Ghibelines, England her White and Red Roses, and, comparing small things with great, Victoria has her rival factions of the Bridge-Ups and Bridge-Downs. The bone of contention between the latter, for two years and a half, has been Victoria Bridge. Each one has fulminated its thunder in the shape of petitions against the other. Petitioners have turned somersaults backwards and forward. The champions of each faction in our House of Commons, whilst shaking their deadly weapons—petitions—at each other on the floor of the House, have protracted what should have been a thirty minutes' debate, to intermittent debates covering two years; and yet the feud still waxed warm; and trained bands on each side are still at work providing more material to bring the war to a close by one grand final battle. We have wondered sometimes why Gov. Douglas, who invoked the aid of musty and obsolete statutes to muzzle the press, has not revived the law of Charles I., which prevented a petition from being signed by more than ten persons, except it was headed by three magistrates or the Grand Jury. Had an act of royal tyranny like that been done, then he might have interfered to quell the strife by pulling down the Bridge without color of law, in much the same way as he built the Bridge over James' Bay, in opposition to the Assembly. A different game, however, has been played. First the public square on Government street was sold by the Honorable Hudson Bay Company by gubernatorial permission; and we presume the money put into the Company's pocket. They certainly made the titles—very strong circumstantial evidence to prove them custodians of the $40,000. Then a bridge was thrown over James Bay—bird cages erected, in which officials constructed the government nest. This nice little operation perfected, what a fine price the lots around the Vice-regal mansion bring, and how rapidly the Company's farm was enhanced in value. So much so, it is nearly or quite all sold. But this was merely a generous act of our paternal government,—which were we at all bilious, might be put down to account of—never mind what.—Well one end of the Family Compact being duly cared for, the upper end must not be forgotten. So Victoria bridge must be pulled down for being an obstruction, and James' Bay bridge declared no obstruction, although vessels of one hundred tons burthen may unload above it. Now we believe Victoria Bridge to be an obstruction. It is an obstruction without a draw. It would offer some difficulties with one. But we doubt whether it would offer any very serious obstacle to navigation, were a good draw put in it. The mistake, therefore, of the Bridge-Up party has been in not subscribing the money and putting in a good draw. Had this been done, the Bridge-Downs would not have impressed into their service so many patriotic legislators to serve the policy of the Family Compact—which is, "You tickle me and I'll tickle you." And the owners of lots above the Bridge could long ago have had access by water to their lots. There's no denying that they are entitled to it. It's only interest with the Ups that has induced them to oppose the Downs. Now we have no disposition to support one interest at the expense of the other. But to look to the public good,—and we believe that that can be better served by a draw than any other way. If it had been proposed to construct a trunk road starting from Government street and rounding Rocky Bay, the Bridge removal would not look so much like a mere speculation. But the idea of a terminus at Waddington alley reminds us that it would be very appropriate to put up a notice on Yates street: "Toll-Gate to the Pons Asinorum." It is not only a ridiculous piece of legislation, but it will be a public inconvenience to make the Esquimaux travel take Store street to Discovery; then twist to the left to get into Constance, then cross a bridge over Rock Bay, when the better way would have been some central line like Government street. Who but interested parties would ever think of taking Store street as the trunk line? Nobody; more will be accommodated by Government street. We therefore conclude that stratagem of the Bridge-Downs to be simply a job, to get the $8,000 to complete the bridges and road to Ellis' Point, and then leave the country to pay the owners of water-lot property on Rock Bay for obstructing their water-front—which will be another nice bone of contention.

Arrival of the Eliza Anderson.

TWO DAYS' LATER NEWS.

Highly Interesting News.

By the arrival of the Eliza Anderson, we have received, through the courtesy of Capt. Fleming, and of Mr. Moody, of the Victoria News Depot, Government street, files of California papers to the 17th inst., being two days later news than that received by the Oregon.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17th.

General Clarke, commander of the United States forces of this coast, died at six o'clock this morning at the Tehama House. He had been ill for a long time with chronic diarrhoea.

Jacob Ezekiel, late Secretary of the Board of Delegates of the San Francisco Fire Department, died this morning, after a short illness. He was at the time of his death Foreman of Hook and Ladder Company No. 1.

L. S. Williams, Senator from Trinity and Klamath counties in 1853, and a resident of the former county, died last night.

The Steamship Granada, lies high and dry at the entrance of the harbor, and will prove a total loss.

The mails detained at Panama, by the breaking down of the John L. Stephens, had not arrived at San Francisco up to the 17th.

Mexico.

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 17th, has intelligence from Mexico to the 11th ult., by which it appears that the Liberals had defeated Miramon, who was compelled to flee for safety to the City of Mexico, where he was closely besieged.

The Spanish commander had threatened to bombard Vera Cruz, but was deterred by Capt. Jarvis and returned to Havana.

A "conducta" with a million of dollars, designed for Tampico, was seized by Degollado, and would be used in the expedition against the capital.

The advance guard of the Liberal army had arrived at Tascabia.

The States.

The Pony Express arrived at Carson Valley on the 17th, with intelligence from the States to Oct. 6th:

The Prince of Wales arrived at Harrisburg from Pittsburg on the night of the 2d. An immense concourse surrounded him. He was serenaded. He rode through the city the next day; visited the capital; called on the Governor, and left by an official train for Washington, where he arrived at 4 o'clock in the morning.

The Prince was received at Washington at the railroad depot, by Gen. Cass and two nephews of President Buchanan, who conducted him to the White House, where the President was in waiting. The royal guest dined in the afternoon with the members of the Cabinet, who are at present in the city.

On Thursday he visited the Capitol, and at noon the President gave a formal reception in his honor. The President stood on the right and Lord Lyons on the left of the Prince. The reception lasted but half an hour. The afternoon was spent in visiting different points, among them Mrs. Smith's Young Ladies' Educational Institute.

Twenty-four out of twenty-eight towns in Connecticut elected Republican officers on the 2d of October. The election was for local officers.

A Vigilance Committee was actively engaged in ridding the country about Fort Smith and Van Buren, Arkansas, of murderers and horse thieves—all suspected persons are closely watched. A man who killed two persons near Van Buren is now lodged in jail. He confessed his guilt yesterday.

Martin H. Gilliam, alias Wm. Owen, formerly of Bates county, Missouri, was hung yesterday at Fort Smith by a mob.

Douglas arrived at Chicago last night, and was received by his friends. He briefly spoke.

Seward spoke at Chicago, October 2d. There was a great crowd, estimated from 75,000 to 100,000 persons. There was a torchlight procession in the night of the Wide Awake Clubs. Last night he spoke at Cleveland.

A terrific storm, on Tuesday, submerged the back portion of New Orleans, washed off eleven miles of railroad and a number of houses. Several steamboats were blown ashore and sunk in the river. Forty sugar houses were blown down, and thirty coal boats swamped at New Orleans. Twenty were swamped at Baton Rouge, besides four steamers. The loss is immense, including a number of lives.

The same storm extended to the lower portions of Georgia and Florida.

Europe.

Dates from Europe are to Sept. 27th: Garibaldi had concentrated his forces on the height of Valento, preparing for an attack by the Neapolitan troops.

The Sardinians bombarded Ancona nine hours without effect; the reply was vigorous. The cannonade continued, by land and sea, at intervals, up to the last moment.

The Sardinians continued to advance in the Papal States. The fortress of Santo Leo surrendered to them, after some hours' fighting. The Sardinians occupied the fortress of Castellana.

Garibaldi had met with some reverses near Capua.

The antagonism between Garibaldi and the ministry of Count Cavour continued. Victor Emanuel had determined to go to Naples, and have a personal interview with Garibaldi.

The King of Naples was supposed to be still at Capua.

The official journal at Rome contains Cardinal Antonelli's note, claiming the assistance of the Catholic Powers.

The Liberator had issued a final proclamation, in which he says that he will join the Sardinian troops, and begin his march against Venice.

Cardinal Spozia had been expelled from Naples. The Sardinian Ambassador at Paris had quitted that city.

Queen Victoria embarked for Prussia on the 23d of September, accompanied by Lord John Russell.

A severe storm had caused shipwrecks on the coast of England. The weather was broken but promising.

DOG-POISONING.—Some person, who has evidently declared war against the canine species in general, has placed poisoned meat in the open field near Harris' slaughter-house. Various gentlemen of this city have been consequently called upon to mourn the loss of several fine dogs recently. If these animals are considered nuisances poisoned meat should not be placed in the open field. It is well known that the Sogish Indians are given to picking up scraps of meat which they find lying around, and who knows but that some of that tribe may yet share the fate of the dogs.

WILD GESE.—A large flock of wild geese passed over Government street, on Monday evening. They flew low, and kept up a loud cackling. Their course was south.

In consequence of there not being a quorum of members present, there was no meeting yesterday at the House of Assembly.

Cur Down.—The old tree that has for many years waved its topmost branches high above the north-east bastion of the Fort, was yesterday cut down. It made a great noise, when falling, and several timid individuals, supposing that the dreaded powder-magazine belonging to the Company had at last blown up, rushed hatless into Government street. Lawyer's offices and stores were vacated in a trice, and for a few seconds folks in the neighborhood seemed quite alarmed.

DULL.—Business at the Police Court has again become dull. Only one case, that of an unfortunate Siwash arrested for selling liquor to his brethren, was before the magistrate yesterday morning. He was fined £5, and in default sent to prison as a vagrant for two months, with hard labor added to keep his mind easy during confinement.

COLONIAL THEATRE.—This evening "Love's Sacrifice," and "A Hole in the Wall," will be given, with Miss Lulu Sweet, Mrs. Beatty, and Mr. Mortimer, sustaining the principal characters. Between the pieces Miss Sweet will give a favorite song and dance; and Mr. Oliver will sing one of his delightful ballads.

A Hydah Indian Tradition.
EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:—Your correspondent, "J. D.," a short time since furnished you with some very interesting traditions of the Northern Indians. They are, to my certain knowledge, correct statements of the belief of those tribes. Allow me to give you one of the same kind, picked up by me while among the Hydahs, some years since. I know they will seem foolish to you; but still may prove of interest to those of your readers who may wish to obtain information regarding the traditions of the Indians:

A BELLYFUL OF RATS.
Very long ago, the tradition says, and long after the Crow had made all things, there lived among the Hydahs a great Chief, whose stomach was full of rats (coot-seen). These vermin came out of his mouth to feed whenever he went to sleep; but when the poor fellow showed signs of waking up, back trotted the rats, and laid down again all snug in his stomach. While the rats were out feeding, the Indians would try and catch them; but they were too nimble to be thus trapped. An Indian once cut off the head of one of the rats; when lo! and behold, the head and the body both ran down the Chief's mouth, and the next day came out fastened together again, and looking as well as ever. At last, the Indians thought they had endured the nuisance long enough, so they called a council of the neighboring tribes, and all the medicine-men and the chiefs came, and they soon fixed up a plan to get rid of the vermin. One night, when the Chief was asleep, one of his relatives laid bits of salmon all around the floor. Pretty soon up came the rats, smelling the dried fish—and when they had all got out, the Chief's mouth was covered, and he was carried to a canoe and paddled off to a high rock that stood in the middle of the sea. The rats attempted to follow their friends; but were drowned in the attempt. The Chief, after the loss of his pets fell sick, and finally threw himself off the high rock and was drowned. The Hydahs, whenever anything goes wrong, blame his spirit for it. They say that the way their forefathers acted towards him, has proved a curse to the whole race. The tribes which were formerly all one, first split: some went one way and some another, then sickness came upon them; and, what is still more remarkable, accidents commenced to happen and kill off their friends. Before the death of the chief and the rats, neither accidents nor sickness was known among them. But the crowning point of their wretchedness was the first appearance of the whites with their fire water in their midst. Since that time they have been gradually decreasing in numbers; and the old Indians say it all comes from the bad treatment the chief with the bellyful of rats sustained long years ago.

P. J.
Nanaimo Harbor Bill.
EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:—In looking over your weekly paper of the 6th inst., I see Mr. Crease has presented a bill to the House of Assembly for the improvement of Nanaimo Harbor. If it was to stop there it might do; but it also provides for the fixing of buoys, collection of harbor dues, assessing all vessels over 30 tons 3d. per ton, entering or leaving; and last though not least, a harbor-master. There's the rub. What a nice little billet for somebody. I could almost guess who and not be very far off the mark. His salary I suppose is to come out of the dues' fund, and if that is not sufficient, it must be made up some other way. Would Victoria gain anything by such a bill? I think not, and Nanaimo certainly not. Mr. Crease says both Victoria and Nanaimo would be benefited by it. I wish he would show us how, and then I would be amongst the first to uphold it; or anything for the advancement of this promising little place. I have heard that previous to the arrival of the late Sir Charles Hotham in Australia, the revenue was twelve million dollars, and it took thirteen millions to collect the twelve. It would be the same here on a smaller scale. I have spoken to several on the subject and they one and all agree with me that the bill in its present shape would tend to injure this place, and drive away the little shipping we have, particularly the coasters. I hope the House of Assembly will not pass this bill until they get some information from men who know the wants of this place, for where Mr. Crease (who is not a member for this place) got his information from is a mystery to me. We have two or three buoys here already. I don't know that we want many more; if so, the Plumper's people who put down the last might be got to put down another without a harbor-master—and if the bill is passed we will scarcely want either buoys or harbor-master, for if we had little shipping before, we will have less then.

Things are very quiet here at present; not even a single case of drunkenness before the Magistrate. I am glad to say he has not much to do in that way.

House of Assembly.

MONDAY, Oct. 29th, 1860.
House met at 3 o'clock. Present—Speaker Helmcken, and Messrs. Coles, Green, Cary, Gordon, Talmie, McDonald, Waddington, Crease.

GAS COMMITTEE.
Mr. Waddington, Chairman of the Select Committee on the Victoria Gas Bill, asked permission of the House to report and leave to adjourn till next Monday, on account of some members of the Committee believing that the company was insufficient.

The Speaker—It is hardly advisable for the Committee to ask for too much time at this stage of the session.

Mr. Waddington—That remark was made by a member of the Committee, but we believe we shall have sufficient time if the subject is postponed for a week.

Leave was accordingly granted to the Committee.

INCORPORATION BILL.
House in Committee on the bill for the incorporation of the town of Victoria, Mr. Crease in the Chair.

The business commenced at section 18, the point at which it had been stopped at a previous session; and the following sections were passed:

VALIDITY OF ELECTIONS.
Sec. 18.—The validity of all elections shall be tried before the Chief Justice. Security for costs to be given by petitioners.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL.

SEC. 19. All acts whatsoever authorized or required by virtue of this Act to be done by the council, and all questions of adjournment, or others that may come before the council, may, save wherein otherwise expressed, be done and decided by the majority of the members of the council who shall be present at any meeting held in pursuance of this Act, the whole number of members present at such meetings not being less than four, and at such meeting the Mayor, if present, shall preside, and the Mayor, or in the absence of the Mayor, such councillor as the members of council then assembled shall choose to be the chairman of that meeting, shall have a second or casting vote in all cases of equality of votes, and minutes of the proceedings of all such meetings shall be drawn up and fairly entered into a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall be signed by the Mayor or councillor presiding at such meeting, and the said minutes shall be open to the inspection of any person who may also make copies thereof and extracts therefrom at all reasonable times, on payment of one shilling.

ADJOURNMENTS.
Sec. 20. The council shall have power to adjourn from time to time.

Sec. 21. Previous to any meeting of the council other than an adjourned meeting, a notice of the time and place of such intended meeting shall be given three clear days at least before such meeting, by fixing a copy of the said notice on the door of the place of assembly, on the door of the magistrate's court, and on the door of the Post Office, and such notice shall be signed by the Mayor, who shall have power to call a meeting of the council as often as he shall think proper, and in case the Mayor shall refuse to call any such meeting after a requisition for that purpose signed by three members of the council at the least shall have been presented to him, it shall be lawful for the said three members to call a meeting of the council, by giving such notice as is hereinafter declared in that behalf, such notice to be signed by the said members instead of the Mayor, and stating therein in the business proposed to be transacted at such meeting, and in every case a summons to attend the council specifying the business proposed to be transacted at such meeting, signed by the Mayor or members, as the case may be, shall be left at the usual places of abode of every member of the council, or at the premises in respect of which he is placed on the Municipal Assessment Roll, three clear days at least before such meeting, and no such business shall be transacted at such meeting other than the business which is specified in the notice. Provided, however, that there shall be four quarterly meetings in every year at which the council shall meet for the transaction of general business, and no notice shall be required of the business on such quarterly days, and the said quarterly meetings shall be held at noon on the — day of —, or if the — day of — shall fall on a Sunday, on the day following, and at such hour on such other three days before the — day of — then next following, as the council at the quarterly meeting in — shall decide.

The council may, out of their own body, from time to time appoint such and so many committees, either of a general or special nature, and consisting of such members as they may think fit, for any purposes which, in the discretion of the council, would be better regulated and managed by means of such committee. Provided always, that the acts of every such committee shall be submitted to the council for their approval. The council shall determine their own place of meeting, and their meetings shall be public.

Mr. Helmcken said he saw no provision in the section allowing the council to adjourn if their quarterly meeting fell upon a holiday.

Mr. Cary.—They are not to have any holidays. It will be a great thing, if they are allowed to take a holiday whenever they choose. Why, we shall have them adjourning whenever there is a fire, a wedding, or a burial.

Mr. Helmcken.—Well, but the meeting might fall on Good Friday, the Queen's Birthday, or some other great day.

Mr. Cary. did not care. It would not be right to give them the power to make their own holidays.

The section was carried as read.
Sec. 23. The jurisdiction of the council shall extend to the limits of the municipality, except where its powers beyond such limits are expressly defined.

DUTIES OF THE MAYOR.

SEC. 22. The Mayor shall be deemed the head of the council, and it shall be his duty to see that the laws of the city are put in force; to inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers under the government; to prosecute offenders against the by-laws of the said city; and to recommend the passage of such by-laws as he may deem necessary for the government of the said city.

Pending a discussion on Section 23, relating to the powers of the council, the House adjourned till Tuesday, 30th October, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

DR. ADOLPHUS'

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

Health Restorative

IS THE MOST VALUABLE AND UNsurpassed remedy for Rheumatism and Gout to be found in the world, or known at present. The discoverer of the above medicine does claim its infallibility in all cases of Rheumatism and Gout—when used according to directions—and does offer a reward of five thousand dollars to any medicine that does supercede it, and is entirely vegetable. The Doctor is enabled to offer the above reward on account of his having used the above medicine for ten years in his the most protracted cases of Rheumatism and Gout, and withstood all known remedies to the profession.
Doctor Adolphus is known and rightly celebrated throughout the State, for his cures in Rheumatism, Gout and Chronic Diseases, and has only to the confession of his patients, and through the skill of the public, and at such terms that every suffering one should be able to reap its benefits.

As a Health Restorative its value supercedes all the mineral wealth and riches of California, and is creating a reputation in the whole treatment of diseases throughout the world.

In secondary and tertiary Syphilis, Scrofula, Enlargement of the Glands, Dropsy, and all Nervous and Cutaneous Diseases, and the whole train of Chronic Diseases, which will stand a time that they appear like being abolished by magic influence, and in fact a few more such discoveries, and druggists will not need to keep a lot of useless medicines on hand, whenever they are prescribed once in a ten score they have lost through time their properties in which their value did reside, if there was actually any in them.

Take this medicine when your digestive organs are disordered and your blood is impure, it will surely act on your bowels.

Take this medicine when you have a cold, and it will make you perspire freely.

Take this medicine when your urinary and absorbing organs are disordered, and it will act on your kidneys—it penetrates every part of your body, searches even the most remote and secret recesses of your system, and removes the disease located there—it restores healthy action and gives tone to every organ in the human body—therefore it has righteously deserved the name it bears: HEALTH RESTOR- ATIVE.

The Doctor, who is averse to all patent medicines, wishes it to be understood that the above medicine is no such thing; but that he has, through the introduction of this medicine with its treaties and directions for use, made every sufferer to be his own physician in the above named diseases.

Thinking it under my dignity to follow the mode of quacks, by appending certificates of physicians or private persons, which is too well known can be had for certain remunerations, applications of friends, or by the mode of boring a man's head to death for ever-the most worthless trash, I will therefore leave it to those in want of medicine to inquire personally of men who have been cured by my medicines of the above diseases, and who can be found in almost every city and village throughout the State. I consider such personal conviction far superior to certificates of persons that are far from being known to them in want of medical aid.

But should any one care for written testimonials or certificates regarding the cures performed by this medicine, they might call at my office, and I will show them certificates of true merit, which have been sent to me voluntarily, without applying for them, or by boring individuals to get them.

To satisfy the most scrupulous of men, also as a guarantee to those that have not had the opportunity of knowing the Doctor by reputation or personally, I have added to every bottle of the Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, the certificate, under oath, of one of the most celebrated analytical chemists in the United States, that there are no minerals nor poisons contained in this medicine, although it is a very powerful medicine, and has a very strong action on the human system, which it necessarily must have, to overcome the action of disease of such malignant character.

Who would be Bald or Grey?

Over ten thousand grey heads have been restored to their original color within the last year, by the use of FISH'S INFALLIBLE HAIR RESTOR

The Bride of Mallow.

BY THOMAS DAVIS.

'Twas dying they thought her,
And kindly they brought her,
To the banks of Blackwater,
Where her forefathers lie;
'Twas the hope of her childhood,
And they placed it in her hand,
And she soft and mild, would Soothe her spirit to die.

But she met on its border
A lad who adored her—
No rich man, nor lord, or
A coward, or slave;
But one who had worn
A green coat, and borne
A pike from Slieve Mourne,
With the patriots brave.

Oh! the banks of the stream are Than emeralds greener;
And how should they wean her
From loving the earth?
While the song birds so sweet,
And the waves at their feet,
And each young pair they meet
Are all flushing with mirth.

And she listed his talk,
And he shared in her walk—
And how could they part?
One so gallant and true?
But why tell the rest?
Her love she confessed,
And sunk on his breast,
Like the ev'ntide dew.

Ah! now her cheeks glow
With the tint of the rose,
And her heart of blood flows,
Just as fresh as the stream;
And her eye flashes bright,
And her footstep is light,
And sickness and blight
Fled away like a dream.

And soon by his side
She kneels a sweet bride,
In maidenly fears;
And their children were fair,
And their home knew no care
Save that all homesteads were Not as happy as theirs.

WHAT'S THE PRICE OF EGGS?—On a Saturday afternoon, as the Fakir of Ava was walking down Main street, Boston he met a broadbrimmed countryman from the Dunker settlement, with a basket of eggs under his arm. The Fakir stopped him and looked into his basket. "Those are remarkable looking eggs you have, sir; what do you ask for them?" "Bit a dozen," replied broadbrim. "Let me try a single one—here's a dime for it," said the Fakir. Taking out his knife, he coolly proceeded to crack it, when, to the astonishment of the Dunker, out rolled a dozen shining half-eagles. Placing them in his pocket, and handing out another dime, the Fakir remarked: "I'll try another if you please, sir." This, too, he cracked open, with the same phenomenon of half-eagles. "I'll take all your eggs," said the Fakir, apparently much excited. "No, you don't," said broadbrim, who had just recovered his speech; and spreading the folds of his woollen "caumuss" over the basket, he made tracks down the street as fast as his burthen, the amplitude of his breeches, and his hobnailed shoes would allow him. He has, doubtless, ascertained by this time that "eggs is eggs," however much appearances may be against the fact.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—The only pure and genuine Balsam in the last twenty years has been prepared by SEYMOUR FOWLER & CO., of Boston; and their printed name, as well as the written signature of F. B. WISTAR, appear on the outer wrappers. As you would avoid the spurious and have the genuine, take no other!

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY—This invaluable remedy is the best one extant for the safe, sure, speedy and permanent cure of Coughs, Colds,
Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pleurisy, Pneumonia, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bleeding at the Lungs, pain in the breast or side, and in fact every form of Throat, Chest and Lung Complaint, as well as Consumption itself.

This household remedy should be in the hands of every family and individual, as a timely application of it to a slight cold will cause immediate relief;
while cases of long standing, obstinate, and apparently incurable character, will surely yield to its wonderful curative powers and its great adaptation to the wants of man when afflicted.

CALIFORNIA EVIDENCE.
Mokelumne Hill, Cal., June 16th, 1898.
Having suffered for fifteen years with Dyspepsia, in its worst form, and having consulted with the best physicians, and tried everything recommended without relief, I was induced to try the Oxygenated Bitters, and before I had taken one bottle I found myself much better, and continued taking them until I was entirely cured, and now enjoy as good health as I ever did in my life. I take pleasure in recommending them to all who are similarly afflicted.

The "Oxygenated Bitters" are sold in California
by Henry Johnson & Co., Redington & Co., and Chas.
Morrill, San Francisco; R. H. McDonald & Co., and
Chas. Morrill & Co., Sacramento; Rice & Coffin, Marysville; Smith & Davis, Portland, Oregon.
